Dear Mr. McCone:

Please accept my belated expression of gratitude to you, Lyman Kirkpatrick and other members of your staff for the time and interest you devoted to the visitors from the Civil Service Commission on February 25. Please be assured that all four of us benefited very materially from an improved understanding of the mission and organization you direct. We gained improved appreciation of the special personnel problems which you face in meeting the unique demands of your operations. I only hope that it may be possible for us to repay your investment through improved service to the Agency and its personnel in the areas where we have assigned responsibility.

With warm appreciation and best regards,

Sincerely yours,

John W. Macy, Jr.

Mrs. Katie Louchheim, Chairman can
Federal Woman's Award Board of Trustees
U.S. Civil Service Commission
8th and F Streets, N.W.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mrs. Louchheim:

Thank you for your letter and announcement inviting nominations for the Federal Woman's Award. We wish to nominate [redacted] who was our nominee last year, as our candidate for the third annual Federal Woman's Award.

Our nomination of [redacted] is based on her distinguished career in international economics and particularly her outstanding achievements in producing and supervising research on the economic activities of the Sino-Soviet Bloc. Her unusual competence and leadership in this extremely critical and complex field have resulted in significant contributions to the effectiveness of the mission of the Central Intelligence Agency and to the intelligence efforts of the United States.

I wish to express my appreciation to you and the Board of Trustees for providing special recognition to women who have made outstanding contributions to the efficiency and quality of the career service of the Federal Government.

Sincerely,

(Signed) JOHN A. McCONE

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Nomination of [redacted] for the Third Annual Federal Woman's Award

1. This memorandum transmits for your signature a letter nominating [redacted] for the third annual Federal Woman's Award.

2. The attached letter from Mrs. Katie Louchheim, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, invites the Agency to nominate candidates for the Federal Woman's Award, which is given annually to six women in the Federal service. The previous recipients of these awards have been outstanding women whose careers represent remarkable achievements in domestic or international fields of Government service.

3. The Agency nominated [redacted] for the 1961 award and [redacted] for last year's award, but our nominees were not selected in the final determination of award winners. The Deputy Director (Intelligence) recommended that the Agency re-nominate [redacted] Deputy Chief, International Division. ORR for consideration for the 1963 Woman's Award. [redacted] Medical Staff, was also proposed as a potential candidate. The Personnel Advisory Board considered both of these outstanding and competent women and recommended that [redacted] be named again as our nominee. It was the consensus of the Board that [redacted] accomplishments in the field of international economics and the scope and significance of her activities are comparable to the careers of previous winners of the Woman's Award, and that it is appropriate to nominate her again this year. In making this determination, they considered her recent advancement to a higher organizational level and the fact that her work has involved interagency activity.

4. The Board of Trustees of the Federal Woman's Award plans to present these awards at a ceremony in May 1963. Nominations must be submitted to Mrs. Louchheim by 8 February 1963.

B. SUMMARY OF NOMINEE'S ACHIEVEMENTS

[redacted] is nominated for the Federal Woman's Award because of the sustained excellent quality of her performance in the Central Intelligence Agency in producing and directing research on the international economic activities of the Sino-Soviet Bloc. [redacted] enthusiasm, sound judgment, and dedication, combined with her outstanding professional and administrative abilities, have contributed greatly to the success of CIA's mission in the extremely critical and complex field of Sino-Soviet Bloc international activities and have resulted in providing significant information in support of policy decisions of the United States Government.

C. DETAILED STATEMENT OF BASIS FOR NOMINATION

Throughout her ten years of service in the Federal Government, [redacted] has displayed outstanding ability, dedication to duty, and a sense of high purpose which is in the finest tradition of public service. As an economist with the President's Council of Economic Advisors, she was solely responsible for analysis of international economic problems. The President's Economic Report of December 1952, for the first time, carried an international economic relations chapter, which was prepared by [redacted]

STAT [] joined CIA in May 1954 and was assigned as an economic research analyst on Soviet Bloc economic activities. Despite quite limited initial knowledge of this field, she quickly grasped its essentials and rapidly turned out studies of the highest caliber which reflected an outstanding ability to perform economic analysis and to communicate her ideas effectively in writing. In subsequent assignments of increasingly greater responsibility, she has demonstrated high qualities of initiative, resourcefulness, and dependability, as well as unusual competence in the organization and the administration of research in the field of international trade and finance of the Sino-Soviet Bloc.

STAT [] is admired and respected by her peers and subordinates alike, not only because of her intellectual qualities and her inspirational leadership, but also because of personal consideration and support which she extends to all of her associates.

The high regard in which the research on the economic activities of the Sino-Soviet Bloc is held by senior officials in CIA and the impact which the product has had upon government policy is testimony that [] achievements in directing such research have been and are of great significance STAT to the mission of CIA and to the national security.

STAT [] has ably represented CIA in various inter-agency groups, and has been highly praised by other participants for her thorough knowledge, her quick mind, her dedication, and her gracious manner.

In addition to her work in CIA, [] has done considerable research and writing on her own time. She is the author of [] STAT

STAT [] was part of a larger volume published by the National Bureau of Economic Research, and several articles and book reviews. She has also lectured before various women's groups and professional meetings.
